Book Updates

Standing at Water's Edge has been out for 6 months. Have you read it? Parenting a child with leukemia may feel unrelatable, but many readers have told me they can relate to juggling parenting and careers and all the expectations wrapped up in our roles.

I had to learn to let go of my expectations to stay present in the moment.

You can, too.

Since my last newsletter, Standing at Water's Edge has received "Starred Reviews" (or its equivalent) from Kirkus, US Review of Books, Reedsy, and Readers' Favorites. Read them here.

And...it was an "Award-Winning Finalist" in the Health: Cancer category of the 2022 International Book Awards and received Honorable Mention in the categories of Health and First Horizons (debut author) in the 2022 Eric Hoffer Awards (for small and Indie presses).
